MEETING IN CONCLAVE

Templar at Boston.

DETAILS OF THE GREAT GATHERING

Washington's Notable Delegation to the Event.

AN ATTRACTIVE TRIP

of the Knights Templar of Washington will enter upon a week of what is intended to be a series of uninterrupted pleasures. The occasion is the twenty-sixth triennial conclave of the Knights Templar of the United States at Boston, and for the entertainment of the visiting knights who are expected to be at the "hub" during the week of the meeting the Boston Knights Templar have made the most exhaustive preparations.

For many weeks past the triennial committee, headed by Right Eminent Sir Knight Samuel C. Laurence, grand com-mander of Massachusetts and Rhode Isiand, have worked night and day, for they remember the conclave of 1889, at Washington, when there were 30,000 swords flashing in the sunlight on Pennsylvania avenue, and that at Denver, three years ago, when there were even a greater number in line, and they are predicting that there will be at least 50,000 knights in line and fully three times as many sightseers along the line of march.

Going From Here.

The representation from this city will be large, and, although the names of all who will go to Boston to attend the great event are not as yet known, still it can be safely stated that the aggregate will reach into the hundreds, not including the larger number of ladies who will accompany their husbands or fathers.

The Knights Templar of Washington have been assured that to all of them who engage in the pilgrimage the headquarters of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, which will be at the Hotel Bruns. Island, which will be at the Hotel Bruns Island, which will be at the Hotel Bruns-wick, will be open at all times, and, with all the other visiting Sir Knights, they will be furnished with tickets for themselves and ladies who accompany them to ex-cursions which are to be given on the Cygnus, a large steamer, and one of the most magnificent running out of Boston.

The Grand Parade.

The great parade will take place on the following day, and in the procession the Washington commanderies have been assigned a very henorable and conspicuous place. The line will be made up into thirteen divisions, and the knights from this city will be in the second and immediately bunk on the City of Richmond on the way to Colonial Beach yesterday and broke his collar bone. At Blackstone Square the column will be reviewed by Gov. Greenhalge of Massa-chusetts and the officers of the Grand Encausetts and the omeers of the Grand En-campment of Knights Templar of the United States; and at Adams Square by Mayor Curtis of Boston and the officers of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The Competitive Drill.

The grand exhibition drill, in which Columbia Commandery is to participate, and, A petition for an injunction has been filed it is hoped by the members, will carry off by Walter S.McArthur against his father-in- ail the honors, begins on the Boston base ball grounds at 10 a.m., Wednesday. LABOR DAY NOTES

The members of Local Union No. 26, Electrical Workers, were more than pleased to hear read at their meeting last night a letter which had been received from Mr. H. W. Williams, a member of the union here, but at present residing in Atlanta, stating that he has been able to get Local No. 29 of that city to reorganize. The harter of this union was allowed to lapse rearly six months ago, on account of the nard times and depression of business then prevailing, but; in response to the appeals made by Mr. Williams, the Atlanta union begins its new career with forty charter nembers, or twenty-five more than were necessary to sign the application before the union could be recognized as a member of the National Brotherhood.

At the conclusion of the reading of the letter the news contained therein was given a round of applause, and, by a unanimous vote, Local Union No. 26 waived all claims to Mr. Williams' services as a mem-ber, and the secretary was directed to send him a letter of congratulation on his success.

Delegate to the National Convention. The matter of selecting a delegate and alternate to the national convention, which It had been decided should take place at his meeting, was postponed until the first meeting night in October, and the names of Messrs, John M. Berger and R. F. Metzel were placed in nomination for the former

taken from Washington.

A resolution to indorse the entire press of the city was passed by a unanimous 70te. The resolution declared that the elec-workers deprecated the narrow policy of unjust discrimination against the Washington press favor of one newspaper. It further said we desire to place ourselves on record as interior all papers in the city which employ union labor exclusively and will impartially furtish all proceedings of this union of gennish all proceedings of this union of gen-eral interest to the public to all papers alike.' Similar action was taken on a resolution indorsing the action of the Federation of Labor placing the Eckington and Soldiers' Home railway and its tributary lines on the "unfair list." It was decided to impose a fine of $1 on every member of the union who shall ride on the cars of the company. who shall ride on the cars of the company.

A personal letter to President Berger from Grand Secretary-Treasurer J. T. Kelly of the executive board at St. Louis was read by Secretary Balser, in which it was stated that Washington is so far ahead of all other cities in the convention race that it will be hopeless for any other city to expect to secure the honor. Mr. Kelly congratulated President Berger and the members of Local Union No. 26 on their achievements in this line up to this time, and from the tone of the letter it

It was voted to rescind the resolution passed some weeks ago in regard to the kind of uniform to be worn in the parade on Labor day, and a motion was adopted that on that occasion the members shall that on that occasion the members shall appear in a civilian suit with white high hat, and each shall carry a cane. The official badge of the union will also be worn. Announcement was made that it was expected that the union would be able to have at least seventy-five men in the parade, and that a meeting of the convention committee will be held tomorrow afternoon at 830 13th street northwest.

Settled Without Trouble.

A difficulty which arose between the members of Carpenters' Council and Mr. John Prescott, the contractor for the erection of the new warehouse of Messrs. House and Herrmann, has,it is understood, been settled amicably, and hereafter none but union men will be employed on that structure.

It was reported that non-union men were

It was reported that non-union men were engaged on the work at the meeting of the council Thursday night, and a committee was appointed by Chairman protem Mason to investigate the matter. The committee ascertained that Messrs. House and Herrmann, with whom Carpenters Council had been in correspondence for a long time in reference to the matter of the construction of the new building, had taken every pregention to project union long time in reference to the matter of the construction of the new building, had taken every precaution to protect union labor and had had inserted in the specifications a clause which provided in the most imperative manner "that none but union men shall be employed on the structure and that these men must be paid union wages and work only union hours." It was alleged that as soon, however, as the contractor got hold of the work he employed a number of non-union men at a lower rate of pay than is demanded under the union rules, and it was against these and the violation of the terms of the contract that the Carpenters' Council protested. As soon as the attention of the firm was called to the matter, Mr. Herrmann, acting, it is said, for the firm, declared that specifications for the construction of the building must be complied with in every particular. It is selleved there will be no trouble in the matter hereafter. The members of the council during the meeting, had quite an interesting discussion in reference to wearing a uniform in the Labor day parade, it appearing that two of the four carpenters' codies in the District want to adopt a distinctive dress for the day, while the others, it would seem, do not. Without coming to a decision on the question the further consideration of the subject was postponed until the next meeting. tion of the subject was postponed until the next meeting.

In accordance with the report of a conference committee of the two unions, it was decided by a unanimous vote that the union bricklayers may continue to work on their present job. Had a different conclusion been reached by the Stone Masons' Union not less than fifty men would have been thrown out of employment.

Laundry Workers Organize. The proposed assembly of persons who are employed in the laundries of the District was launched last night, when, after more than fifty girls and about a dozen men had signed the roll of membership, the following officers were elected: Master workman, W. Gooding; recording secretary, Miss Marie E. Clark; financial secretary, Charles W. Cropp; treasurer, Miss Annie Foley.

The Painters. The regular weekly meeting of Painters' Assembly, No. 1798, Knights of Labor, was held last night. After voting to take part in the Labor day parade, they decided upon a uniform, to consist of white pants, dark coats and white soft hats.

Opening of the Bijou.-William H. Eas Opening of the Fijou.—William H. East-ton, formerly manager of the old Ninth Street Opera House and resident manager for the firm of Harris, Britton & Dean, has leased the Bijou Opera House and will cater to the families of Washington, and will endeavor to bring it back to the high standard it enjoyed during his man-nagerial career of eight years. The first agerial career of eight years. rformance will be given Monday, Sep-

The following are a few of the bookings which Manager Easton has secured:
William Morrison, ""The Lost Paradise;" Kodak company; "alter Sanbell's "White Slave" company; "alter Sanford's great scenie production, "The rower of Gold, and the Struggle for Life;" Great railroad play, "Midnight Special;" McDowell's great scenie production, "The Engineer;" McKay's comic opera company; the great spectacular "Zozo, the Magic Queen;" the new metropolitan melodrama, "The Bowery Girl," will be given for the first time in this city; also the great water show, "The Midnight Flood;" "A Flag of Truce," the great military success; "A Run on the Bank;" "The Bull Fighter;" "O'Hoolihan's Masqueraders;" "An American tember 9. on the Bank; "The Bull Fighter; O'Hoo-lihan's Masqueraders;" "An American Hero;" "The Westerner;" "Plays and Play-ers;" the latest New York success; the Casino Vaudeville Combination; "Side Tracked."

These, with others expected, constitutes the finest and best assorted lines of attractions ever booked at the Bijou. Mr. Wm. Boag, one of the rising young Washington actors, who is also a crack tennis player, has gone to Newport to participate in the tennis tournament there, and then he will join Mr. W. H. Crane's company for the season.

Quite an honor has been confered upon Mrs. George H. Gorham, the banjo virtuoso of Washington, by the musical department of the Atlanta exposition in arranging to place on exhibition a life-sized photograph of herself, in which she holds the famous $800 banjo. Mrs. Gorham is said to be considered by such experts as Hienry C. Dobson and others as the best and most accomplished lady banjoist in the world. She has quite a collection of banjos, all of them being unusually fine.

As proof of her finished work as a musician, it may be noted that M. Planel, the great violinist and public musical instructor to the Queen of Spain, is, musically, one of her most ardent admirers, having passed three successive evenings while spending a few days at the Shoreham in this city three years ago listening to Mrs. Gorham's executions on the banjo. Quite an honor has been confered upon
